Table II, Sect 1 – The first round is decided by adding together jump and time faults. Horses with clear rounds or with an equal amount of faults are placed according to the time it took them to complete the course.

Table II, Sect 2 (b) - The first round must be completed without any faults. The horse and rider combination immediately jump-off without leaving the ring in between courses.

Table II, Sect 2 (c) - This is commonly known as power and speed. The course is split into two sections, first power then speed. If you complete the power part of the course fault free then you advance to the speed section. If you have any faults during the power sections you will be sounded to stop.
